HEADMASTER'S REPORT

My Lord, Rev. Brother McGlade, Rt. Rev. Monsignor, Rev. Fathers, Rev. Sisters, Rev. Brothers, ladies and gentlemen.

I present to you the fourteenth annual report of St. Edmund's College.

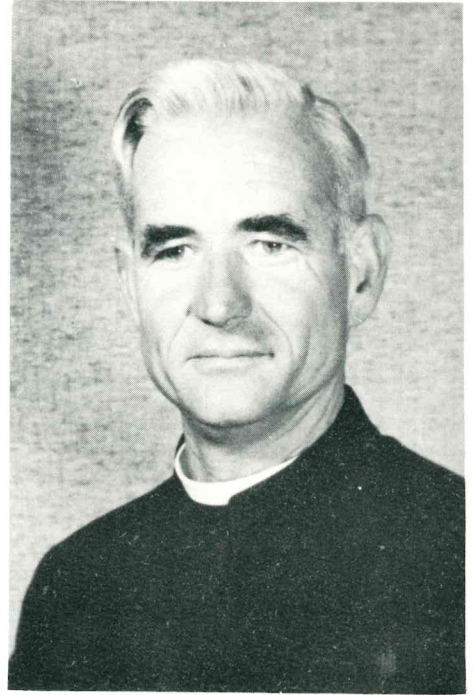

1967 saw the retirement of His Grace Archbishop O'Brien and the appointment of His Grace Archbishop Cahill as his successor. The foundation of St. Edmund's almost coincided with the appointment of Archbishop O'Brien to the Archdiocese. Throughout the intervening years we enjoyed the friendship, guidance and genuine interest of His Grace. During these years he became a familiar figure at the College and its functions; I am sure the example of his own scholarly achievements will long prove an inspiration to the boys with whom he came in contact and he will be long remembered as a kindly, gracious and ever thoughtful pastor. We wish him long years of health and happiness in his retirement, to pursue those interests which the care of souls kept largely in the background.

To our new Archbishop, once again we offer a sincere welcome. We pledge our loyalty and cooperation in his work of administering this rapidly growing section of his Archdiocese.

Our Archbishop is undoubtedly a man of outstanding accomplishments and one who has already rendered great service to the Church as Bishop of Cairns, as member of the Secretariat for non-believers, as Secretary of the Liturgical Commission of the Australian Bishops' Conference and as a delegate to the Synod of Bishops now meeting in Rome. We pray that his work in this Archdiocese will be abundantly blessed.

We need no reminder that Catholic Education is today passing through a crisis - the problems of the Catholic school have been frequently aired in the daily press and in numerous periodicals - but we do need to be clear about the nature of the crisis. That there is a financial crisis there can be no doubt. The rapidly increasing cost of education to the community, the increased enrolment in Catholic schools which has outstripped the increase in Religious vocations, the increase in staff to allow expansion without overloading classes, reorganisation of secondary education and the consequent need to expand school facilities - all these have combined to bring us to the point of grave financial insecurity.

We are receiving considerable capital aid which has allowed expansion of the facilities the school provides and this we acknowledge gratefully.

Rev. Br. J.B. Darmody C.F.C., B.Sc., Headmaster.

However this does nothing to help with continually increasing running costs. The Government is fully aware of our situation and unless substantial aid is forthcoming in the very near future we will be forced regretfully to impose the largest ever increase in fees for 1968.

In the view of some people the crisis is not only a financial one. The validity of arguments for a Catholic school system is being called into question. It is sometimes claimed that the only distinguishing feature of the Catholic school is its daily Religious Instruction period. It is argued that the outlay of energy, finance and personnel is more than we can afford and that such resources could be more fruitfully applied in other fields of apostolic endeavour.

Every system of education aims to imprint a specific character on its students. The particular aims of the Catholic School are set out in the Declaration on Christian Education by the Vatican Council: "No less than other schools does the Catholic school pursue cultural goals and the natural development of youth. But it has several distinctive purposes. It aims to create for the school community an atmosphere enlivened by the gospel spirit of freedom and charity. It aims to help the adolescent in such a way that the development of his own personality will be matched by the growth of that new creation which he became by baptism. It strives to relate all human culture eventually to the news of salvation, so that the light of faith will illumine the knowledge which students gradually gain of the world, of life, and of mankind."

If the Church is to accomplish her mission in the world her members need to be motivated by a virile spirit of Faith and regard for others. No greater guarantee of virility can be given than ensuring that the mind of Christ permeates the activities of the adolescent, informing his intellect, forming his judgment, directing his will and sanctifying his actions.

Man is a composite being of spirit and matter and has needs peculiar to each of these worlds whose satisfaction is a matter of urgency in the life of each individual. Yet these needs are closely interwoven and interdependent. Undue emphasis on one set of needs to the neglect of the other produces a caricature of the human person. The fully formed man is one who, after long effort, has achieved a synthesis of his corporeal, affective, and spiritual powers and has thereby achieved true liberty. To the extent that man interiorizes the demands of duty, of vocation and directs his actions towards the Good from which they derive their meaning he has achieved integration and emerges free to give himself.

In the words of Vatican II the bishops "take the place of the Apostles as pastors of the Church, in such wise that who ever listens to them is listening to Christ".

We wish to welcome to Canberra our new pastor, this proven man who has taken over the ministry, Archbishop Thomas Cahill. We hope that the people of God in the Canberra Goulburn Archdiocese will profit spiritually having him for their leader and that he will find the fulfilling of his divinely given mission all the more pleasant for its being in this archdiocese.

SENIOR SCHOOL STAFF

Miss P. Wilson, Br. K.A. Butler, B.A., Br. J.B. Darmody, B.Sc., Br. D.G. Dynan (Deputy Head), Mrs D. Everett, Br. W.J. Owens, (Headmaster), Mrs K.M. Durie, Mrs I. Frerker, Mrs C. Larko, Br. G.C. McMahon.

Br. V.D. Hawley, Br. N.L. Lipman, Mrs F.V. King, B.A., B.Ec., Dip.Ed., Br. K.M. Kirwan, B.A., Br. J.R. Hills, A.Ed.

Br. W.G. Tynan, Mr R.C. Devlin, Br. R.A. Brookes, B.Sc.

Since education concerns itself with this twofold synthesis of cultural goals and the gospel spirit, and of the needs of the individual, it must be an integrated process. The desired end can hardly be achieved through fragmenting man's education. His religious formation must go hand in hand with the development of his bodily powers and with the informing of his intellect. Such cohesion can hardly be achieved by providing an education which most of the time concerns itself with the orderly development of the mind, and with training the individual in those basic skills which will enable him to survive in a highly competitive world. This is to relegate the development of the spirit to a separate and minimal amount of time and to a separate group of teachers. The true educator is essentially a leader who leaves his stamp on the student through a variety of contacts in several spheres of action.

In these days of extreme financial strain we can be tempted to yield to expediency and adopt a compromise which would destroy the effort and sacrifice of many generations. We have a heritage to pass on, not just to individuals of the present, but to countless generations to come. The sacrifice involved in maintaining our Catholic Schools is a constant witness to the relevance of the Gospel message to every aspect of human culture and learning.

Throughout the world there is a growing number of young people who have not come to grips with the realities of life; people who in spite of unprecedented affluence find within themselves a yearning which they have not the means of satisfying. It is unfortunate that because of their spectacular nature and because of the publicity they receive such groups exercise undue influence on the general community of young people who do not experience their problems and for whom their solutions are irrelevant.

Through the year we have attempted to provide an environment conducive to the full development of the boys. Y.C.S. groups and the St. Vincent de Paul Society function regularly within the timetable, while boys in junior classes are encouraged to become members of the Dominic Savio Club and the Crusaders of the Blessed Sacrament. We endeavour to bring the Liturgy into the everyday life of the school through weekly Mass, work is interspersed with prayer.

The physical development of the boys is catered for in a variety of sporting activities as well as in the weekly Physical education periods. Representative teams took part in cricket, football, tennis, basketball and hockey competitions and in swimming, athletic and cross-country carnivals. Within the school similar competition was provided on an inter-house basis. Coaching classes in swimming were provided throughout the year.

The College was particularly well represented in such cultural activities as the National Eisteddfod - both in choral and individual sections - inter-school debates, the Lions' youth exchange programme, the Royal Commonwealth Society's Public Speaking competition, and the "Youth Speaks for Australia" contest.

In 1966 the last Leaving Certificate Examinations were held. 34 of the 38 who were repeating the Leaving year qualified for the Leaving Certificate. Noel Grieve, Dux of the College for 1966, shared the John Dean's prize for English.

Sixty eight of the Form IV class satisfied conditions for the award of the School Certificate.

This year the first group to follow completely the reorganised pattern of secondary education will sit for the first Higher School Certificate Examination. We wish them every success in the examinations and in their future careers.

In order to provide improved specialist facilities, staff rooms, and an enlarged library, the College buildings are to be extended. The work on extensions should commence in November and be ready for occupation in the second term next year. We are grateful to the Commonwealth Government for their assistance in approving this project as eligible for Capital Aid.

Much of the money raised two years ago to establish rowing in the school is being spent on equipment. We hope that our crews will begin training very soon.

I am proud to record that on Saturday, July 22nd our third past pupil was ordained to the priesthood. He is Father John Wells who attended the College from 1955 to 1960. Father Wells was guest of the school on the following Thursday, addressed the school assembly and celebrated Mass for present pupils of the College. We offer him our congratulations and wish him every blessing in his priestly work.

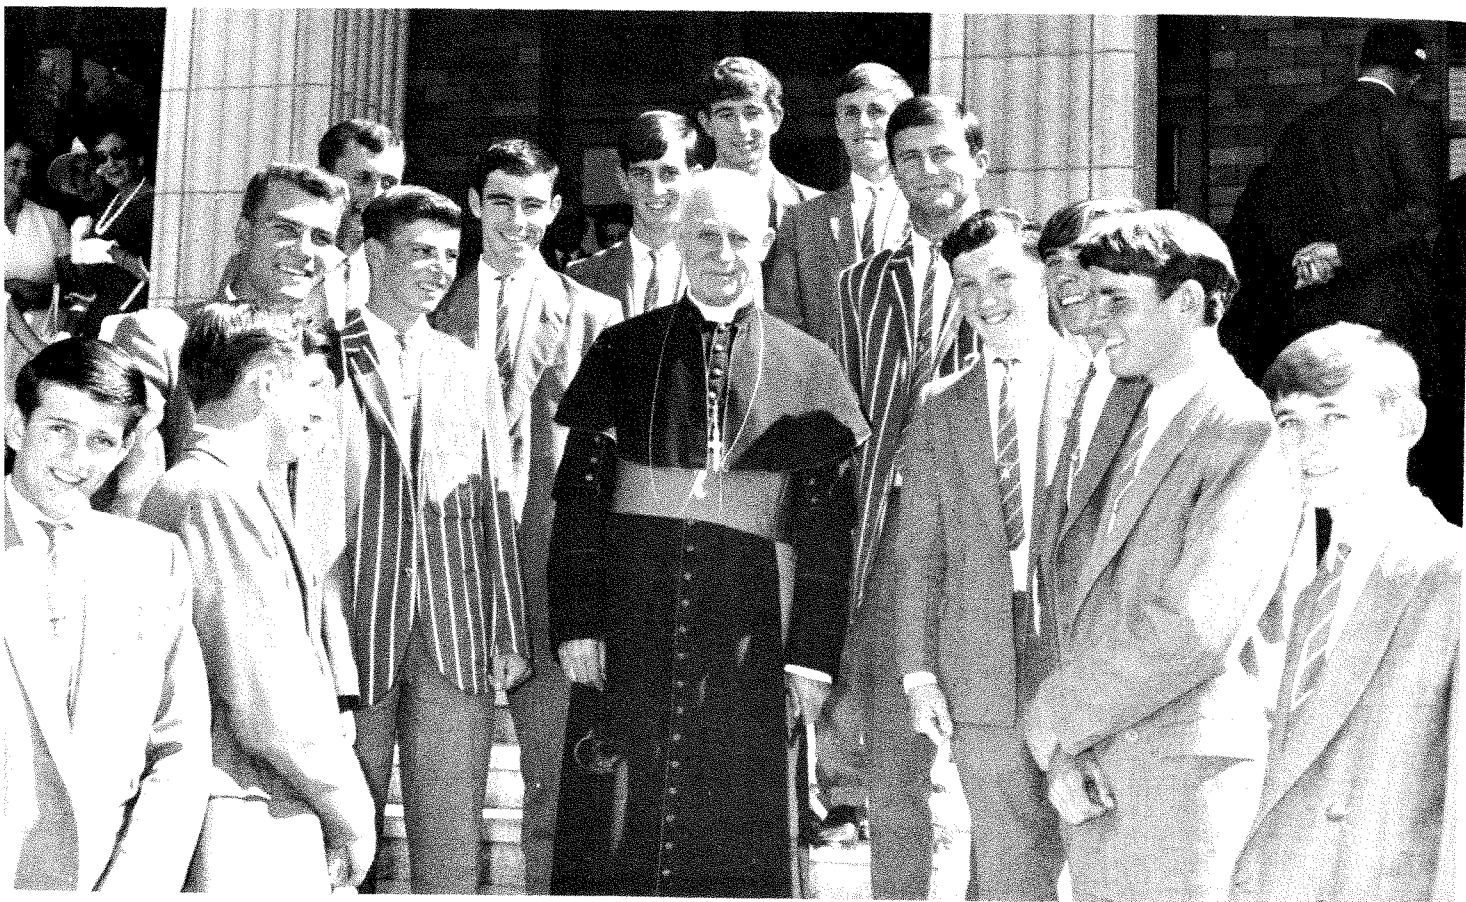

An event of great importance for the Christian Brothers in Australia was the visit of the Superior General, Br. A.A. Loftus, M.A. Ph.D. In a little over a hundred days, together with his vicar Brother C. Normoyle, he visited more than a hundred Christian Brothers' Schools throughout Australia and New Guinea. Br. Loftus visited the College on April 11th and addressed the School Assembly. He spoke enthusiastically of his experience in Australian schools and reminded the boys of the challenge they faced in an age when "no one can afford to be mediocre". He was impressed by the flourishing state of the Church in Australia and drew attention to the fact that other countries with a less developed system of Catholic Education did not exhibit the same strength of faith.

When Archbishop O'Brien came to St. Edmund's to present the Prefect's badges this year, the knowledge that it would be his last official act in the school as our Archbishop made the occasion one of special importance.

It is not often that any school has a friend of the calibre of Archbishop O'Brien. He has been a part of St. Edmund's since its opening in 1954. He has continually shown an interest in and a true regard for the College, the Brothers and the boys.

And so as well as being a presentation of badges the ceremony became a farewell. Br. Darmody took the opportunity to thank the Archbishop for his kindness and interest and wished him a happy retirement.

His gentleness and scholarship and kindly interest will be missed by all, but none could deny him the rest he so amply deserves.

The College Captain for 1967 was George Kazs. His loyalty, enthusiasm and cooperation were much in evidence throughout the year. Working unobtrusively with the Vice Captain, Robert Malone, and the other Prefects he was most effective in assisting with the smooth running of the school and in upholding the good traditions and reputation established in the past. To George and all the Prefects I offer our sincere thanks and congratulations.

The majority of the Student body exhibit a degree of good will and cooperation that leaves little to be desired. The work of the Staff and the Prefects would be of little avail without the good sense and responsible behaviour of the boys of all classes. I commend the majority for their gentlemanly deportment so evident in the most cases on all occasions. I feel it is necessary to warn that success, even for the able, is not achieved without sacrifice and hard work. It is not the result of spasmodic bursts of industry but rather fidelity to the daily tasks of learning. With so much to interest and divert the young mind in this community there is the danger that diversions can assume a priority over the more lasting satisfaction of success through hard work.

As in previous years we have had the support of the Parents' and Friends' Auxiliary. Meetings have been well attended and parents and staff have benefited from the opportunity to meet and discuss our common aims. To the ladies who have so generously staffed the tuck shop, or supplied the wherewithal for tuck days, or helped with typing through the year I offer our sincere thanks.

Working bees have enabled us to carry out maintenance at minimum cost. We are grateful to those fathers who helped in these projects and in officiating at sporting carnivals.

In spite of the relative youth of the College we have a strong Old Boys' Association. I congratulate the executive of the Association on the success of the functions held during the year and on the loyalty displayed to the school and the ideals it strove to put before them.

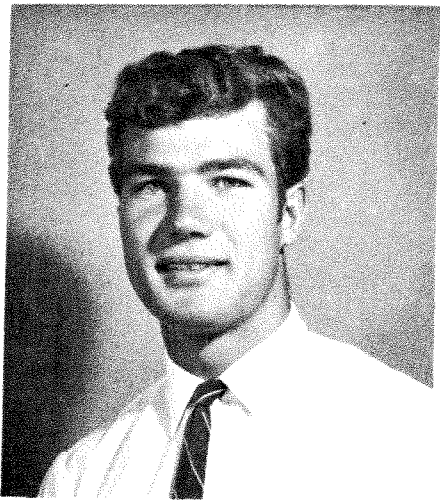

To Monsignor McGilvray, Father Wright and Father Power, I offer our sincere thanks for their attention to the spiritual needs of the boys through weekly Mass and the opportunity they have provided for confession.

To the staff, overworked, enthusiastic and patient, I want to express my personal thanks. We could not have functioned during some difficult periods of the year without their loyalty and adaptability.

Finally I want to thank all parents for their assistance and patience throughout the year.

May God bless you all.

J.B. DARMODY
Headmaster

College Captain, George Kazs

FROM THE COLLEGE CAPTAIN

The year 1967 has been one of continued advancement for St. Edmund's. The traditions of the past have been maintained and the foundations of new ones securely laid.

The College has attained an excellent academic record and this year has presented 74 students for the Higher School Certificate, most with matriculation courses. With the added difficulty of new Syllabuses the Brothers have been more than instrumental in moulding the students to take their places in society both academically and spiritually. They have by their inspiration given the boys the standards which are so essential in modern society. The student-teacher relationship is strong and the boys have reacted well to the opportunity to take responsibility for their study, occasioned by the extra year at school.

This strong relationship is characteristic not only of this level, but also on a pupil-pupil level. Senior pupils have volunteered to teach Christian Doctrine to the primary boys. I don't know who got the better of the experience, the "teachers" or the pupils, but the fact remains that the experience so gained will long be remembered. The result was that the two sections of the College became more strongly united. A variety of duties was undertaken by the prefects - ranging from school supervision to decoration of the hall for the school social.

Sport as in previous years, played a prominent role in the life of the pupils. The junior grades were especially successful in all their activities and the tradition established by the First XV and XI was well maintained. Swimming was extended into the winter months and the constant and specialised training will undoubtedly lead to handsome dividends. Athletics too figured notably in the school calendar, and the social contacts so made serve to strengthen our ties with neighbouring Colleges.

1967 has been a year of change, a year which has opened up new horizons. New activities such as "Quest" have been introduced and it is to be hoped that they will become firmly established as the College grows. Such things are only possible with the support of the students themselves and with this final point I would like sincerely to thank all the students and the prefects for their cooperation, and especially Brother Darmody and his staff, who have served as milestones in our lives. We are indebted to them, more than we can appreciate at the present time.

George Kazs

COLLEGE WINS MAP CONTEST

The Australian Institutes of Cartographers (A.C.T. Division) conducts each year a cartography competition. This year there were six sections. A prize was awarded for the best entry in each form of the Secondary division of the schools.

The entrants had a wide choice. Three map subjects were given to choose from: The Common Market and the Rest of Europe, Northern Australia and South-Eastern Australia. Again, the students could select to make a model, in any medium, to illustrate some particular land form.

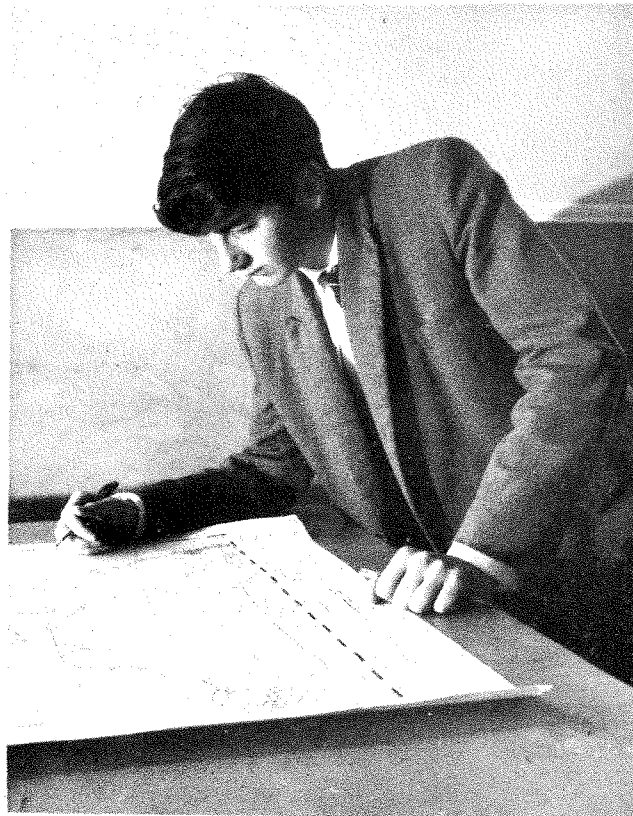

The local branch of the Institute awards prizes ranging from $5 to $10 to the winner in each form; the Readers Digest Association awards a copy of "The Readers Digest Great World Atlas", or "Atlas of the British Isles" to the prize winner in each section. In addition the Monaro Shopping Mall Merchants' Association awards a prize of a complete set of "The Times Atlas of the World" valued at $100, or atlases and geographical reference books of an equivalent value, to the library of the school obtaining the highest number of points.

This competition arouses interest among the students of the college and many students, particularly among the students of Geography entered; they spent many hours drawing maps and creating models. The standard of work was high and four of the ten major prizes were awarded to the students of St. Edmund's College.

The Prize winners were:

P. Sheehan	Fifth Form
S. Facchin	Third Form
G. Gilles	Second Form
P. Jorritsma	Second Form

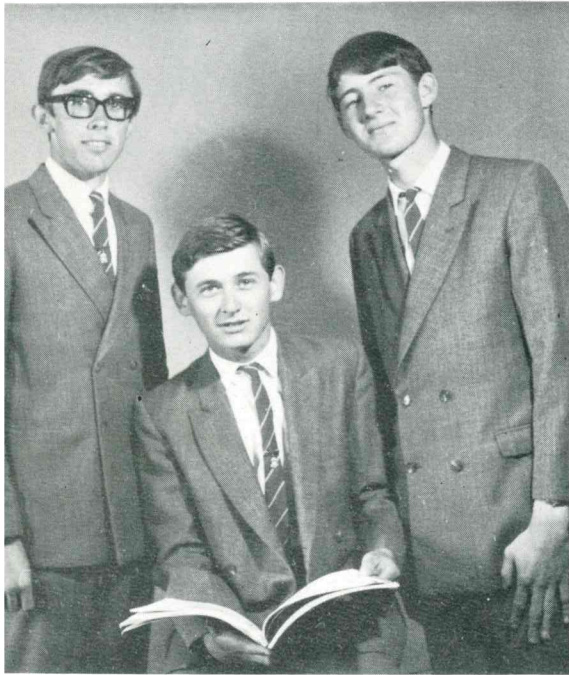

These awards were worth a total of 36 points and were sufficient to win the schools' section prize of $100, from Lyneham High School with 32 points. The Geography section of the school library has been added to as a result of winning this award. Nearly thirty up-to-date reference and recognized texts have been purchased. These books are proving very helpful to the students of Geography in all forms.

DEBATING

Sixth Form Debating Team: D. Swan, P. McNamara and G. Mackey

Debates are conducted each year by the A.S.C. This year debates were held against Canberra Grammar School on Friday, 2nd June. The Sixth Form team, D. Swan, P. McNamara and G. Mackey took the negative side to the claim that, "Chivalry is Dead" and successfully maintained their claims. The Fifth Form Team, T. Moy, B. Scullin and T. Morrissey were not successful in maintaining, "That Experience is the best Teacher." P. Mackin, P. Stemp and D. Richardson argued successfully against the claim, "That Television is a disruptive factor in Society." "That More Money Should be Spent in Australia on Education" was not successfully claimed by A. D'Arcy, M. Cottier and T. Burt of Third Form. The Second Form team of K. Hassall, C. Morrissey and J. Woods took the negative side to the subject, "That All Sportsmen Should be Amateurs." The government, unfortunately had a few stronger arguments. It was the first public debate for the First Formers: I. Brown, J. Becerra and S. Ryan. They presented many arguments in favour, "That the Myth of Santa Claus Should be Abolished." However, the negative team presented a stronger case and won the discussion.

On the night of these debates we were warmly welcomed by Headmaster, Mr. P.J. McKeown of Canberra Grammar School and thoroughly enjoyed the work of organization of the evening by the Rev. C.N. Howell. Competent and accredited adjudicators were supplied and supper was served to all participants.

The Sixth Form team: D. Swan, P. McNamara and G. Mackey debated K. Austin, G. Martyn and M. Cunliffe of Daramalan in the preliminary final of the debates to represent the Private schools in competition for John F. Kennedy Memorial Shield presented by the Australian American Association. The topic of this debate was, "That There is no Such Thing as Australian Culture." This was a very close debate and the adjudicator, Mr. B. Steele, awarded the following marks

Affirmative: St. Edmund's College 221

Negative: Daramalan College 223

Debater D. Swan represented the College in a competition, "Youth Speaks for Australia" conducted by the Canberra Jaycees. He was the winner of the contest conducted by the Lions Club of Canberra Valley. This win assures him of a trip to New Zealand, Thailand or Japan. A final contest in December will determine which trip he will take. His performance follows closely on T. Mackey's success of 1966; he thoroughly enjoyed his three weeks stay in Japan.

P. McNamara represented the College at the evening organized by the Royal Commonwealth Society. Speaking in the Auditorium of the Australian Academy of Science on Wednesday evening of the 2nd August, he presented a very neat analysis of, "The Implications for the Commonwealth of Nations if Britain joins the European Economic Market." The Junior representative of this night was A. D'Arcy and his subject was, "Is the Commonwealth Important to Australia?"

The representative debaters, speakers and those who endeavour to become team members have had many opportunities to master the art of thinking and to help themselves to become more efficient in the art of public speaking. In his novel, "Virgilius" Irving Beecheller told about the young Roman who wanted to become a member of the Roman Senate. He asked a senator what he should do to achieve his ambition. The reply was, "Young man learn to think, for in this realm you will find little competition." Surely this advice would apply today - to our modern youth.

"QUEST"

1967 saw the founding of the new school newspaper "Quest". Its aim has been to record school events and to give the boys a medium of expressing their thoughts on all matters ranging from biophysics to the school dog. "Quest" edited, written and printed by the boys themselves, has so far been printed four times and if the eagerness of the first editing committee is any indication, it should have a long and fruitful life.

OLD BOYS

Congratulations to the College for another first. "St. Edmund's College, Annual Magazine" is a significant step in establishing St. Edmund's among the great private schools in Australia. The Old Boys' Association is proud to be associated with this venture and is becoming increasingly aware of the privilege of being part of St. Edmund's.

The Old Boys' Association has been reasonably active during the year, and the functions that were held were well attended.

The year's activities commenced with the Annual General Meeting on 8th February. Approximately sixty Old Boys attended and elected the executive for 1967. The Executive chosen was:-

President - Bill Daniels, Vice-President - Alan Edwards, Secretary - Brian Gallagher, Treasurer - Terry Higgins, Publicity Officer - Paul Scholtens, Committee - Michael Somes, Steven Brown, Peter Richards, Jim Daley.

This year for the first time the Association held a Reunion Dinner for the Old Boys. It is intended that this function become an annual event and should prove to be an excellent opportunity for school leavers to join the Association. This year the Dinner was held on 22nd February, in the Hotel Canberra and approximately one hundred Old Boys attended. His Grace, Archbishop O'Brien, who was then Patron of the Association and Rev. Brother Darmody, Vice-Patron attended this function. The First Headmaster of St. Edmund's, Rev. Fr. McCarthy was a Special Guest of Honor at the dinner and many Old Boys who remember him were pleased to have such an opportunity to see him again.

The Eighth Annual SECOBA Ball was held this year on 14th July, at the Hotel Ainslie Rex. This function is well established in the Old Boys' calendar and again this year the function proved very popular. Nearly two hundred attended the Ball and we were pleased to welcome several of the Brothers from the school.

Father Wells' ordination this year increased the number of priests the school has produced to three. The Association is proud of such an excellent record, and congratulates Father Wells on his ordination.

Since its inception in 1958 the Old Boys' Association has been honoured to have His Grace Archbishop O'Brien as Patron of the Association. His Grace has during that time always shown an interest in the Association and its members. On his retirement this year the Association would like to record its thanks to His Grace for his interest and help to the Old Boys during his office in Canberra.

The next Annual General Meeting of the Old Boys' Association will be held in February next year and we look forward to seeing all of this year's school leavers at this meeting.

(Brian Gallagher)
SECRETARY.

PARENTS AND FRIENDS

The Auxiliary commends those responsible for the publication of a College magazine and looks forward to its issue as a regular feature of the College year.

We are proud to be associated with St. Edmund's College and we were reminded of the reasons for that pride at the Speech Night held in the Canberra Theatre on 26th October last. The Auxiliary congratulates those boys who were rewarded for scholastic and sporting achievements during the past year.

At the same time, the Auxiliary is conscious of those mainly responsible for the achievements of the students of St. Edmund's and we extend to Brother Darmody and his staff of Brothers and lay teachers our sincere gratitude.

We have a fine building at the College, surrounded by excellent sports fields and spacious grounds, which all go towards making a first class school. There are more buildings to be added and soon we should see a further wing to complete the complex of buildings which go to make up St. Edmund's College.

Something should be said about the role of the Auxiliary. In the running of the College, the Headmaster is confronted with many problems from day to day. Assistance is given by the Auxiliary to Brother Darmody, as it has been given in the past to the previous headmasters.

The assistance has included landscaping the grounds, laying concrete cricket pitches, putting in drains in various parts of the grounds, and officiating at athletics carnivals staged at the College.

In addition there are numerous time-consuming tasks performed by the ladies of the Auxiliary, for example the typing of examination papers, the staffing of the Tuck Shop, and the many mending jobs and the organization and staffing of cake stalls and special tuck days throughout the year to raise funds so that the Auxiliary may fulfil its objectives. The cake stalls and special tuck days are the major sources of the Auxiliary's income.

The objects of the College Auxiliary, it should be noted, are "..... to do all things which, directly or indirectly, shall assist the Christian Brothers in the promotion of the spiritual cultural, academic, social and physical education of pupils of the College."

In order to fulfil these functions it is imperative that we keep an active membership of the Auxiliary. At present there is a good attendance of parents at meetings and the Executive of the Auxiliary urges parents and friends to attend the meetings and offer their assistance.

VOCATIONS

Rev. Br. A.A. Loftus, M.A., Ph.D., D.H.Litt., Superior General of the Christian Brothers.

Br. A.A. Loftus, Superior General of the Christian Brothers, visited Australia this year. Below is an extract from an address he gave to the young men preparing to be Brothers at Strathfield.

"Let's never forget that the Catholic School is the foundation of the Catholic Church. Where the Catholic School flourishes, where the Brothers are working, the Church flourishes. Where you have no Catholic School, the Church is in a very poor condition. Last year we went out to South America. We went to Buenos Aires and there, as in many other places, the value of our vocation was brought home to me. In one place I visited there were over fifty thousand Catholics - five hundred go to Mass on Sundays, five hundred out of fifty thousand!! At first we were saying 'Oh, what is the matter with these South Americans?' But they have few Catholic schools and after all, you don't go to Church to learn your religion - you go because you have learnt it. Where there is no Catholic School, there is no practice of the faith.

About eleven years ago from the American Province we opened a Mission in the Carribean, a little island 50 miles long and 15 miles wide called Dominica. On this island when we went there first, once a boy was twelve years of age he never went to Church. Women went to Church, boys over twelve, no. Last summer we returned to the island and I mention it as a classic illustration of the value of our work, we found the graduates of the School married and with children were going to Mass, and their children were going to Mass. Five boys from the Island have become Brothers, three are out teaching now. In other words, there is a complete transformation - no practice of religion - wonderful practice of religion.

Now, you couldn't notice that in Australia because you have had the Catholic Schools for so long and it is just taken for granted. But it is going on here just as in any other place where the Brothers are doing this most important of works.

And that is why I would like to congratulate you young men who are preparing to enter the Congregation, and I remind you of the greatness of the work. And let us remember any time and every time, that we are not just teaching subjects; no one of us is teaching Mathematics or English or History. Never! We teach boys by means of English, History and Mathematics. The aim, the ideal, the aspiration of every Christian Brother is to bring every boy with whom he comes in contact just a little closer to the Lord. That's our work, and our work is hidden and humble and not spectacular, but so important.

That is why my Brothers and my Brothers-to-be don't forget the greatest claim to fame anyone of us can have that he's a Christian Brother".

FATHER JOHN WELLS

The measure of success of a Catholic school is its ability to produce apostolic Christians. If a school succeeds in making of its pupils Christians who witness to their belief in Christ then, whatever else it does, it is a glorious success. And so it was an occasion for sincere thanks to God when we were able to welcome back to St. Edmund's an old-boy priest in July. Father John Wells, who did his Leaving Certificate at St. Edmund's in 1960 was ordained in his home town Queanbeyan on 22nd July. On the 27th he returned to his old school to offer Mass. The occasion was availed of to present Father with gifts from the boys and from the Old Boys' Association, a token of our pleasure at his ordination and of our good wishes for his life as God's Priest.

One with Christ and each other. Fr. Wells gives Communion to the boys of his old school.

St. Edmund's College is very proud of this group. Together with the Superior General, the Provincial and the Headmaster of St. Edmund's, there are six Old Boys in Training. Few schools could boast of such a fine group of young men. We hope their example inspires many others to follow them.

GEOGRAPHY EXCURSIONS

The Geography syllabus requires fieldwork, to the minimal extent of five full days in the two years, distributed in roughly equal proportions between physical and cultural aspects of geography.

The fulfillment of this requirement of the syllabus has proved very interesting and very enjoyable to the fifty sixth form geography students of 1967. They have learnt a lot of Geography in the field and consolidated quite a number of points made in the classroom. The old adage: "Geography is learnt through the sole of your boots" has been verified in their case.

The field days included a trip to Wollongong, a day on the summit of Australia, Mt. Kosciusko, a survey of the Fyshwick industrial area, a survey of the Kingston and Manuka Shopping areas, and a study of farms in the local area.

The departure for Port Kembla Steel Works was early - 6 a.m.; the route was via Goulburn, Moss Vale, Macquarie Pass, Albion Park and Dapto. Landforms, vegetation and farming features were pointed out on appropriate occasions.

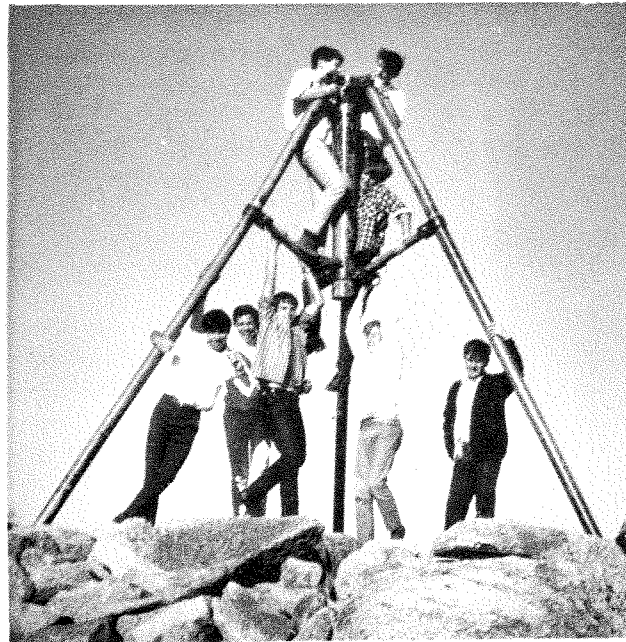

The following extract from a letter to the Headmaster indicates the interest shown by the class at the Port Kembla Steel Works. It is signed by the General Manager, T.K. Duncan, for the Australian Iron and Steel Pty. Ltd., "We refer to the visit by 55 students from your school to our Plant on Wednesday, 23rd November. The behaviour of the group reflected what must be the guidance given by yourself and your staff. The most pleasing aspect of the visit, from our point of view, was the interest displayed by the students and their ready acceptance of the information and details of our complex operation."

The return was via Kiama and Cambewarra Lookout. The blowhole was visited and the delta of the Shoalhaven viewed from the Lookout.

The study of Urban Geography urged the study of the shopping centres. The type of and number of functions were noted and analysed; a spot survey of shoppers was made and it revealed a wide threshold of customers.

Included in the study of the forces of location and characteristics of Canberra's Industrial area was a case study of Cadona Dal and Company Joiners. Mr. Cadona and staff were most generous with their time and patient with the many queries. The industrial area was mapped as a result of the queries.

The trip to Mt. Kosciusko meant an early start also. The object was to study the effects of glaciation on the summit during the pleistocene times.

The trip through the topographic corridor to Cooma was full of interest; a brief examination of Cooma, an old frontier town which has grown with the pace of an upstart mining town, because of the influx of workers employed by the Snowy Mountains Authority, but with much more order and convenience, proved interesting. The Kosciusko State Park Headquarters at Sawpit Creek revealed the many interesting features of the Park on their display boards and on a film. A State Ranger accompanied the party and pointed out many geomorphological features and helped to understand the geomorphology of the area. The summit was reached by all the members of the party after a study of the glacial characteristics of the summit area.

The final excursion was made in an endeavour to see if Canberra was exerting an influence on the farms in the local area. The first farm was a dairy farm at Fyshwick. Mr. Kelly, the owner of this Ayrshire Stud, pointed out the features of the farm and answered the queries. The second farm was the sheep and stud property of Sir Walter Merriman at "Hill View" Murrumbateman. The Stud Master, Mr. Hardy showed the party over this part of the property and the Manager, Mr. K. Bush the sheep section. Time did not permit a very long stay at Mr. K.A. Darmody's property at Sutton. The geographic features along the routes were noted; and the services of the hamlets and villages were observed. Another bush field day and the final one for this year's class.

TEMPORARY AUSTRALIANS

St. Edmund's, probably more than any other Christian Brothers' school in Australia, might almost be called an international school. Canberra has become a centre for people from other countries who have settled in Australia as most Australian cities have and so many countries are represented among the pupils here. Added to these though is a liberal sprinkling of boys from other countries who are only temporary Australians, the sons of people representing their own country in Australia or representing foreign business concerns.

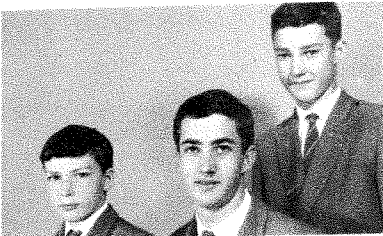

It was a coincidence that the day which saw us farewelling Stephen McWhite, son of the Irish Ambassador, saw the arrival of Ravi Thomas, son of the Indian High Commissioner. Stephen who had been at St. Edmund's for three years left with his family to live in The Hague where his father will represent Eire. Ravi arrived from New Delhi where he had attended St. Columba's Christian Brothers' School.

EISTEDDFOD

Although not crowned with the brilliant successes of previous years, St. Edmund's boys performed well. Great credit must be given principally to staff members for the enthusiastic efforts outside school hours, and then to the boys themselves, whose cheerful cooperation made the entries possible.

A final word of thanks to those many parents who provided transport and were our appreciative audience.

Outstanding successes were:

First place, Fold Singing Group, Under 14.

First place, Verse Speaking, Senior Verse Speaking Choir.

First place, Under 10 Vocal Solo, Raymond Blewitt.

Second place, Under 10 Vocal Solo, Roddy Pead.

SHE PLAYS TO PLEASE . . . .

Mrs M. Schmedje first came to St. Edmund's in 1959 and since then her musical talent has been at the disposal of the boys of St. Edmund's. Her great patience, kindness and charm have enabled the College to become a force in the music world. The standard of singing and the enthusiasm of the singers speaks volumes for the efficiency of her training. With Brother Herson, that dynamo of the classroom, St. Edmund's reputation for good singing is such that the Elizabethan Opera Company asked for twelve boys for "Tosca" - no auditions required.

Sincere thanks for those many hours of devoted work, Mrs Schmedje.

GRAND OPERA BY GRAND PERFORMERS

St. Edmund's reputation for fine singing earned twelve boys the dual roles of street urchins and altar servers! Paul Cottier, Robert Allan, Tony Parish, Robert See, Gary Pead, Chris O'Rourke, John O'Donnell, Philip Ryan, Douglas Kelly, John Carmody, Philip Conrick, and Andrew Corrigan performed in this capacity in the Elizabethan Opera Company's production of "Tosca". John O'Donnell had the distinction of singing a solo part as the Shepherd's Boy and he received great praise for his efforts.

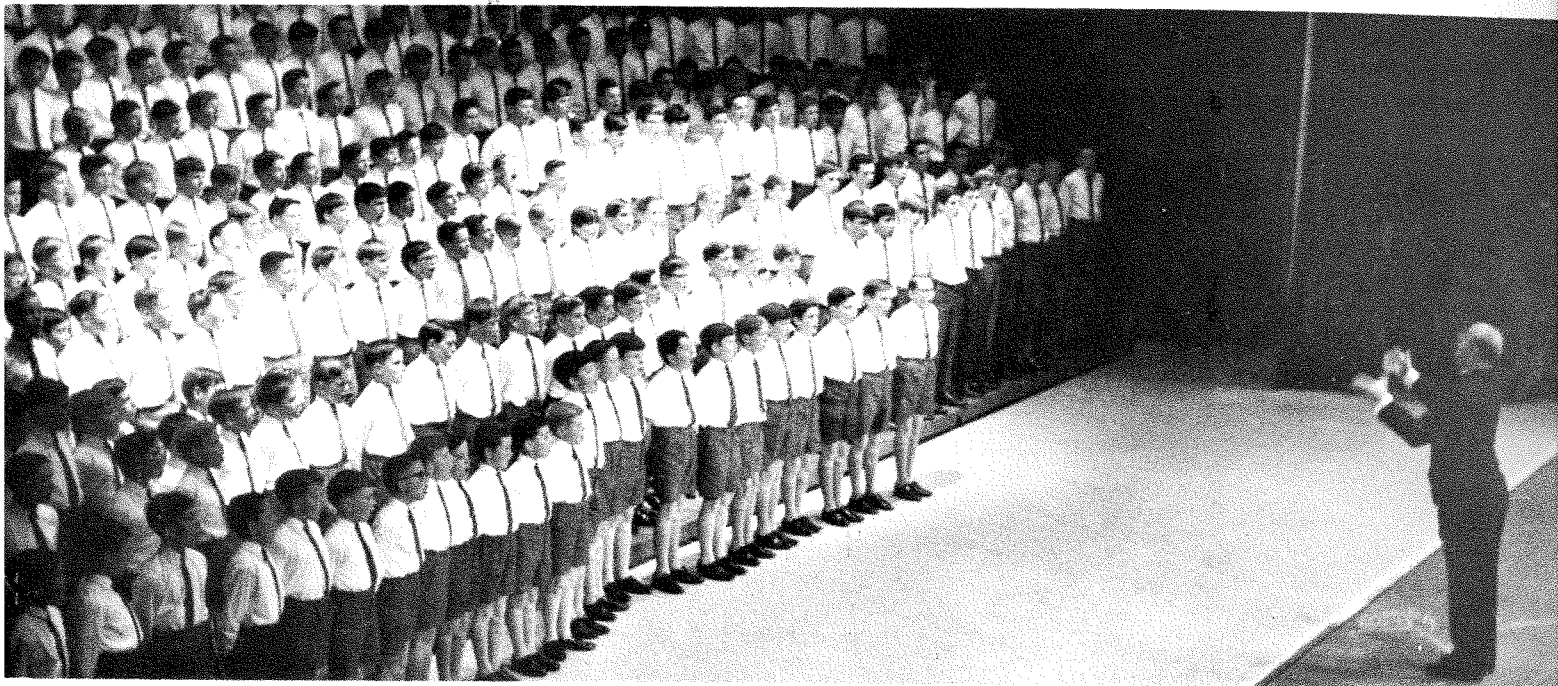

In a letter received by Br. Kirwan the Administrator of the Opera Company said, "The boys certainly did a very good job and I will be very happy to see their association with our Opera Company renewed in the future."

JUNIOR CONFERENCE ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY

A Junior Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society was formed during the second term of the school year.

The objects and ideals of the society were made known to all the students of fifth and sixth forms by Mr. J. Kelly LLB. of the St Christopher's Conference. Nearly thirty boys responded to his appeal to form a Junior Conference.

A meeting is held each Friday. Elections were held at the first meeting and P. Burt became President, G. Schmedje Treasurer, and W. Snowdon, Secretary.

A most successful appeal for used clothing was conducted by the Conference. An appeal was made to all classes and the result was that nearly 300 separate parcels were received and forwarded to the "Shelter" at Narrabundah.

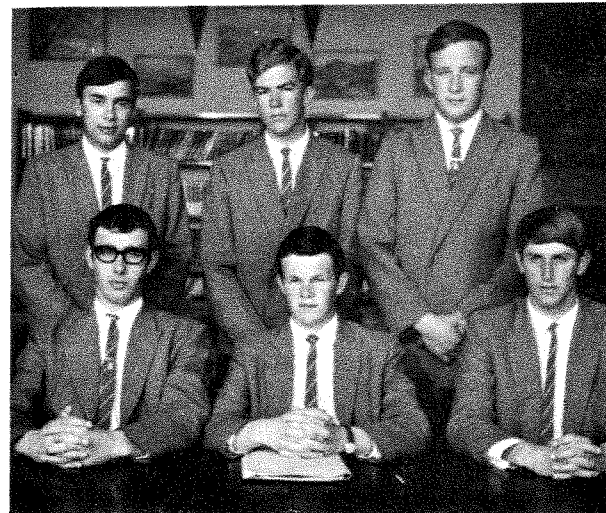

A party of members attended the Festival Meeting at St. Bede's, Red Hill. The Mass was celebrated by Dr. Weissell and he also gave the occasional address. The members were invited to supper. The Junior members appreciated the warmth of welcome they received from the senior members. On the occasions when they meet they gather that they are very welcome, and that they are a source of encouragement. In turn the Juniors feel that they have been introduced to a virile society of Christian Gentlemen.

Ten members accepted the invitation of Mrs. Vivianni, Secretary to the "Child and Adults Physically Incapacitated Association" to help at the Spring Fair which was held in the grounds of the residence of the British High Commissioner.

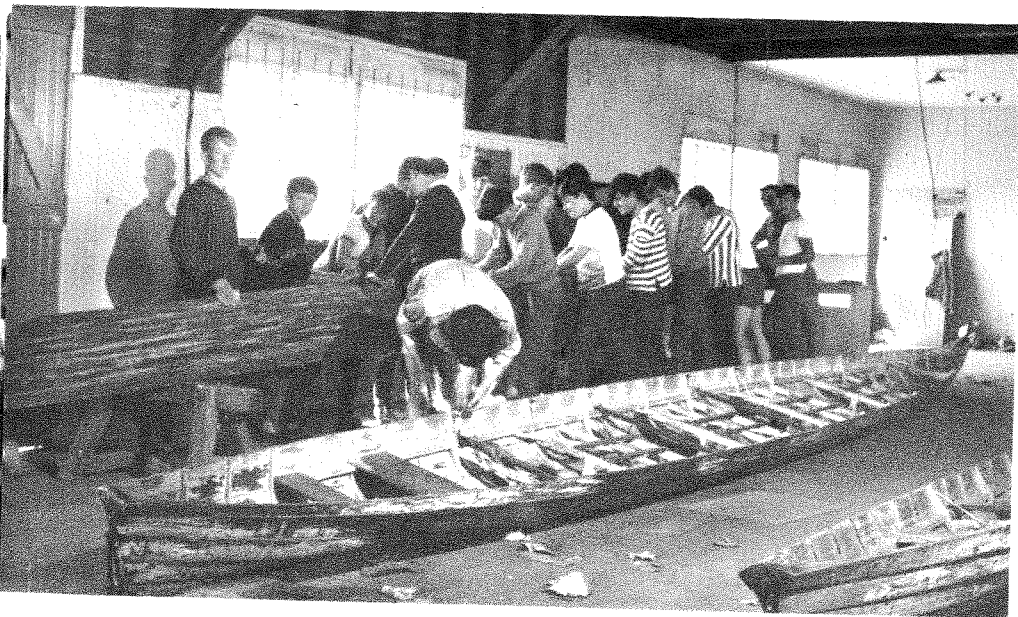

Nearly all took part in The Freedom from Hunger Appeal. They either distributed leaflets on the Sunday prior to the appeal day, or helped with the collection on Sunday 24th, September.

Philip McNamara has accepted the role of publicity officer for the work of the Pontifical Mission work with the College. The Catholic Secondary schools of N.S.W. have been allotted the Seminary of St. Charles in Nagpur in India as their special "adoption". This is the special work of the Pontifical Mission in our College and the publicity in our midst is in the hands of these members of the Junior Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

This movement is rousing the charity dormant in the heart of youth and please God will go from strength to strength.

FIRST XV

This 1967 season was one of mixed success. Injuries plagued the team throughout; so much so, that only on one occasion were we able to field our full 1st XV line-up. This was probably one reason for the erratic performances.

Despite this great handicap, the season was an enjoyable and interesting one. St. Stanislaus, Bathurst, and St. Mary's Cathedral, Sydney, brought teams to the Federal Capital and St. Edmund's were very cordially accommodated and entertained on a Sydney trip by St. Leo's, Waitara. Results of these matches may be seen below.

It is usually very difficult to select the best players for a season and this year was no exception. Our backs were the main scoring force and, as such, captain Bob Malone must be our best back. He was one of the few, who played all games, and scored most points. Others, who gave outstanding performances on occasions, either missed too many matches or were forced, through circumstances, to play out of position. Among these were Wally Gotovac, Peter Job, Robert Allen and Kieran O'Grady.

The forwards were a good pack with no outstanding players. John Regan was the leader of this department of the team and has been adjudged the best forward for the season. He was closely pressed for this honour by Frank Del Piva and George Kazs.

In the Associated Southern Colleges round of fixtures, we finished second to St. Patrick's, Goulburn and to be placed next to this outstanding team is no mean honour.

This was a very successful season. We won all matches except one which was a draw with St. Patrick's, Goulburn. The team was well balanced having strength in bowling, batting and fielding, and it was skilfully captained by John Jeffery.

Congratulations to all members of the team in making this one of the strongest sides that St. Edmund's must have had for quite a long time.

HOCKEY

*Under 16 Back Row: D. Zappia, M. De Maniel, T. Keane, Y. Hladenki, T. Kelly, A. Sykes, F. Agius.

This year St Edmund's had a successful hockey season with the Under 16 team captained by Chris Powell, being Co-Premiers and both Under 14 teams, captained by Andrew Campbell and John Sykes winning their way to the Preliminary Finals in their respective divisions. The Under 12 team captained by Graham Brill and coached by Mr Moloney, gradually improved from a number of players to a team of considerable combination at the end of the season.

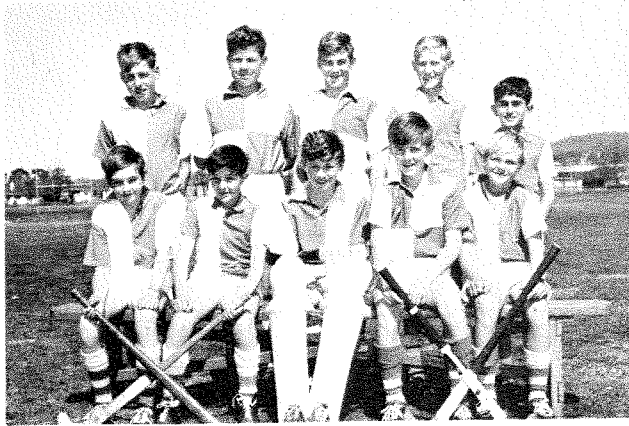

A good deal of this success is due to the interest of some Old Boys of the College and members of St. Patrick's Hockey Club. Mr W. Powell, J. Barwick, J. Flynn and J. Watts umpired and coached the boys every Saturday morning. We express our gratitude to them for their interest and their thorough knowledge of the game. A feature of all games was the spirit of fairness and good sportsmanship in which they were played. The boys are to be congratulated on the high standard of their play and the teamwork which takes a lot of practice to achieve. More of the smaller boys are invited to play for their school and so boost the strength of St. Edmund's teams.

The most thrilling game was the Grand Final in the Under 16 division between St. Edmund's and Old Canberrans. We had lost the Semi-Final to them 2 goals to nil and had beaten Daramalan 2 goals to 1 in a disappointing Preliminary Final. Tom Kelly scored two goals in the Final and one in the Grand Final. The goalie, Michael Henchy, gave a brilliant display in the last game. The fullbacks Dominic Zappia and Michael De Maniel played a safe game while the half-backs Chris Powell, Frank Agius and John Moore were tireless. The brilliance of the team lay in the forward line which was made up by Yaroslaw Hladenki, Fred Camilleri, George Skiba, Tom Kelly and Alex Sykes. They always looked dangerous on the attack and their experience and combination proved effective in scoring over one hundred goals during the season.

TENNIS

This year 25 players represented St. Edmund's in inter-school tennis. The schools' tennis competition is held concurrently with the cricket competition during the first term. Students are given their choice of representative sport. Thus the series of matches between Canberra Grammar School, St. Patrick's College Goulburn, St. Michael's Agricultural College Inveralochy and St. Edmund's presents some opportunity for those moderately interested in tennis to represent their College competitively.

The representatives for 1967 acquitted themselves well and seemed to enjoy themselves.

Treacy House won the inter-house competition for 1967, while champions in the various ages were:

Senior	Barry Macdonald
Under 16	Peter Clowry
Under 15	Gary Stroop
Under 14	Frank Galjaardt
Under 13	Kim Hassall
Under 12	Anthony Black

SWIMMING

The 1967 swimming team trained at Sep. Prosser's Pool at Deakin and benefited greatly from the expert coaching of John Konrads. They did well in competition with some fine individual performances but there was not enough depth in the team to defeat the competition leaders, Canberra Grammar and St. Patrick's College.

Results are as follows:-

Invitation Swimming Meeting. Canberra Grammar 198 points, St. Patrick's College 188, St. Edmund's 152, Goulburn High 96, St. Michael's College 39.

A.S.C. Swimming Carnival. Canberra Grammar 342 points, St. Patrick's 320, St. Edmund's 232, St. Michael's 69.

A.C.T. Secondary Schools' Swimming Carnival. Queanbeyan High 127 points, Canberra Grammar 108, Narrabundah High 73, St. Edmund's 53, Deakin High 47, Dickson High 46, Campbell High 43, Canberra High 41, Daramalan 27, Telopea Park High 26, Lyneham High 24, Watson High 19, Monaro High 14.

St. Edmund's gained second place in the Junior Division.

College Swimming Carnival. House Competition:
Clancy 786, Haydon 767, Rice 729, Treacy 706.

Age Champions: George Kazs (Open), John Brady (Under 17), Roger Kukurudza (Under 16), Robert McInnes (Under 15), Ian Brown (Under 14), Norbert Maciejewski (Under 13), Michael Silverstone (Under 12), Peter Silverstone (Under 11), Jeffrey Machutta (Under 10).

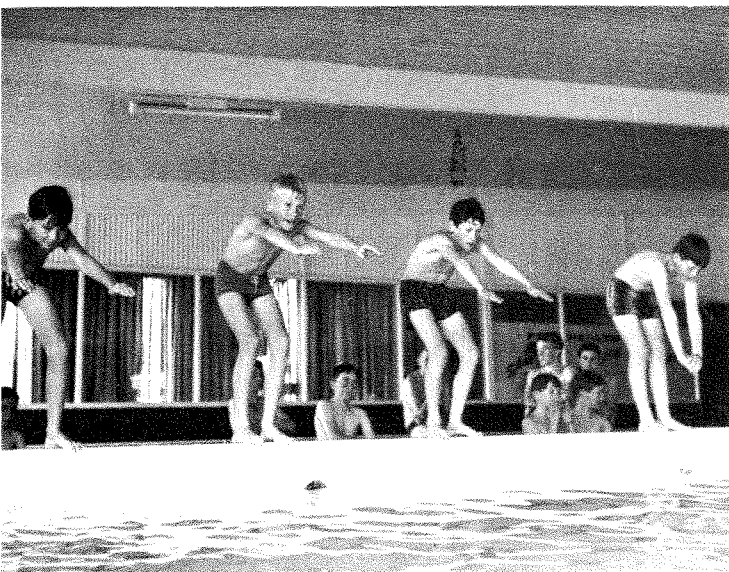

This year swimming at Sep. Prosser's heated pool was made available as a year-round sport on the weekly sports day. Beginners as well as advanced swimmers were catered for, and supervised training and coaching classes were conducted with good results. This has proved very popular and is a worthwhile addition to the weekly sports programme.

CROSS COUNTRY

If a boy has plenty of heart, strong reserves of stamina, and a little speed, he can be a successful cross-country runner. We have had a few boys in our teams who were good sprinters also, but most of our champions have been lightly-built boys, with determination rather than high speed.

The competition is unusual in two ways. Firstly, the scoring is arranged so that the winner gains 20 points, the second place-getter gains 18 points, the third gains 17 points, and so on, until the 19th runner is given one point. This means that almost every competitor can help his team to win, and a consistent team of five runners can do better than one outstanding runner, with the rest of the team of poor standard. Secondly, since the course is different each year, over different types of country, there are no records, as there are in track events, although the best times are fairly consistent from year to year.

In spite of the strenuous training involved, our boys have enjoyed their running, and they have deserved the satisfaction they have received from their successes. Since the A.S.C. competition began in 1959, St. Edmund's has won five times - in 1962, '63 and for the last three years, 1965, '66, '67. The quality of the youngest members of this year's team indicates that we are going to be stronger than ever in the next few years.

An unusual feature of our teams has been the number of successful family groups. This year, we had two sets of twins - Joseph and Francis Ravello in the Under 16 division, and Paul and Anthony Weiss in the Under 13 division. Other pairs of brothers over the last few years have been Michael and Philip Skipper, Stephen and Gavin Bourke, Brendan and Denis Wilson, Christopher and Dominic Hawke.

THE SCHOOL DOG

The following article appeared in the second edition of "Quest". It was written by Peter Coan.

Almost every boy at St. Edmund's must have, at some time or another, had his lunch eaten, or at least sniffed at, by our faithful school dog. If you deny this, it was most certainly eaten after it had been thrown into one of the pale-coloured food bins (I'd feel pale also with all that food in me!) that partner the little-used paper bins, sparsely scattered across the yard.

The idea of this article is not, as you may well think, to insult your mother's sandwich making or the management for the lack of food and paper bins, but to give a short biography, if you could call it that, of that silent nomad of the playground - TRIXIE, the school dog.

TRIXIE:

General appearance - when the bell rings at 9 o'clock.

Disposition - joyful, happy, glum, sad, philosophical, funny
(depends on what kind of mood he is in).

Personal Traits - akin to any other dog - tail, fore legs (not to be confused with four legs), hind legs, skin with fur on, sad-looking eyes (no matter what kind of a mood he's in).

Occupation - scavenger, custodian of playground, food bin, king of the playground, sun-absorber.

Ambitions - scavenger, custodian of playground, food bin, king of the playground, sun-absorber.

Hobbies - being a scavenger, custodian of playground, food bin, king of playground, sun-absorber.

Likes - good food.

Dislikes - bad food.

Favourite colours - brown and white.

Sports - greyhound racing, hide-and-seek (mostly with other dogs).

Religion - R.C. (Roaming Catholic).

Clubs and Societies - R.S.P.C.A. and C.W.A. (Canberra Wanderers' Association).

Sex - male or female.

Age - secret.

Salary Range - insists on not being paid for his work.

Theme Song - "My Old Man's A Dustman".

Because of his wonderful character and personality, Trixie is admired throughout the length and breadth of St. Edmund's, not only by us who do our best to tread on him every day, but also by his fellow dogs who do their best not to get trodden on by him every day.

No Red Baron for this Beagle to hunt! So...

.... rest a while for some crust that a St. Edmund's boy will surely put in this bin.
